Charting the course for the health of Bradford County

Stake, FL—Community members with a vested interest in the healthcare of Bradford County are invited to attend Charting the Course for the Health of Bradford County and Its Residents on Thursday, May 28, 2009. The event will be held at the Bradford County Public Library, 456 West Pratt Street, Starke, from 6:30 to 8:00 pm.

Jeff Feller, COO of WellFlorida Council, will present an overview of the health status of Bradford County. A discussion session will follow. The goal of the event is to educate interested parties in the health status of Bradford County and to create strategies to improve the health of Bradford County and its residents.

Dinner will be provided. Please RSVP to Lindsey Michaels at lmichaels@wellflorida.org or call 352-313-6500 ext 114.

The event is hosted by Bradford County Health Department and WellFlorida Council. WellFlorida Council is a local health planning council serving Bradford County and District 3 of Florida. WellFlorida's mission is to build healthy communities through advocacy for health issues and facilitation of community initiatives.
